JUNE, 1947

OUR SPIRIT

We are now at the end of another school year. Another group of seniors are leaving East High. Their high school days are over; but as they leave their school, they take the spirit of East High with them—the spirit that all East High pupils inherit from the former classes, who are now the alumni. This Lee Township spirit can be traced back to the students and faculty of the old East High, whose enthusiastic, progressive spirit and capable leadership promoted the building of our present high school, which at the time was considered “East Des Moines’s biggest folly.” We, the students of East High today, know that this is not true, and we should all be grateful that the people supported this project with such enthusiasm. This is an example of that fine spirit which is widely expressed today as “Lee Township against the world.” Certainly the classes which follow in the footsteps of this class of June, 1947, will also inherit that spirit; but the graduating class will maintain their share of it, because they will need it in order to make their mark in the uneasy world of today.

Along with this heritage of spirit, they will take many fond memories of their high school days. They will remember the school parties, the football games and the other sports, and even the way the students walked around the halls in the mornings. Whatever these memories may be, they will cherish them as long as they live.

Of course the seniors take with them the knowledge which they have gained at East High. The many subjects offered on the curriculum of studies enable the student to choose the best course which will help to make him a useful citizen. For it is true that each person has his own ability, and every ability is represented in the activities of our school.

Community spirit—spirit of friendship and cooperation, experience in participating in group activities, a broad store of knowledge is what East High graduates possess. In giving the students a well-rounded education such as this, East is living up to that principle on which it was founded: For the Service of Humanity. Living up to that principle has become a tradition at East High, and we can be sure that the graduating classes of the future will continue to uphold it as this graduating class has done and as those of the past have done. This is the true East High Spirit.

EAST

AT WORK

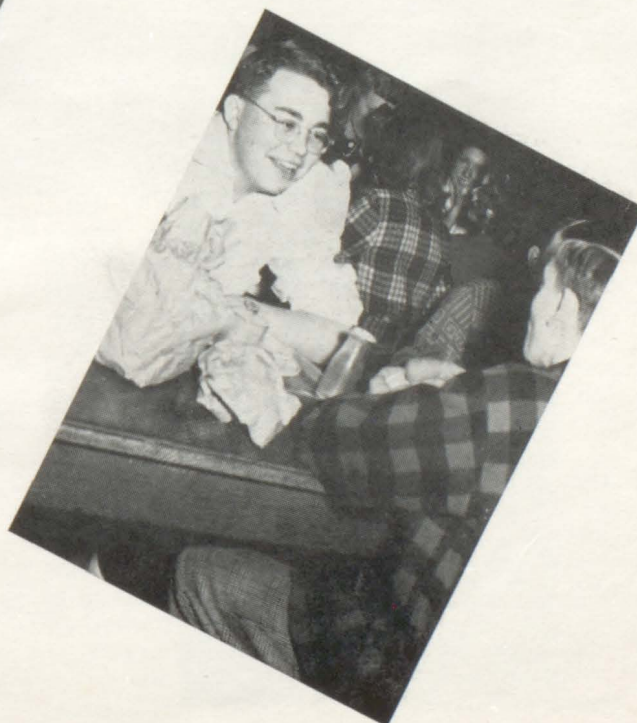

These scenes suggest a typical day in East High's class rooms. They represent a variety of subjects, from chemistry and test tubes, to mathematics and slide-rules. East High at work shows a lot of hard effort on the part of the students.

AT PLAY

By looking at the informal shots on this page, one can conclude that the days spent at East High are not all work and no play. These illustrations show the different phases of recreation offered at East.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

East High, with its program under the able leadership of Mr. O. G. Prichard, principal, has undoubtedly one of the most active and progressive high school schedules. Under his guidance, our school has grown in spirit and gained in prestige.

Mr. D. Q. Williams, vice-principal, besides attending to his various duties in his office, finds time to be secretary of the Big Seven Conference, and principal of night school.

MR. O. G. PRICHARD, Principal

His presence and experience forms a great part of a successful school year.

Miss Agnes Helmreich, girls' advisor, is another personality who contributes to East High's successful schedule. Through her efforts, while working with the school's social program, the year is balanced throughout with such events as the numerous all-school parties, the Junior-Senior Prom, and the Lee-Zur hours.

With a faculty like East High's behind the scenes of activity during the school year, nothing but the best was expected. Our expectations were more than justified by their splendid work. The assemblies, social events, and clubs, which were all faculty sponsored, turned out the best that the student body has experienced. This is the student body's opportunity to say thanks for the fine work that the faculty has contributed.

Not to be forgotten is the efficient work of the office staff. This means, of course, Miss Dorothy Steffens, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret McGaffee, registrar. The office is thought of as the center of the school and its activities.

Also to be recognized for her valuable service to the student body is Mrs. Alice Clark, nurse. Her friendly smile and wit do much to help the sick on the road to recovery.

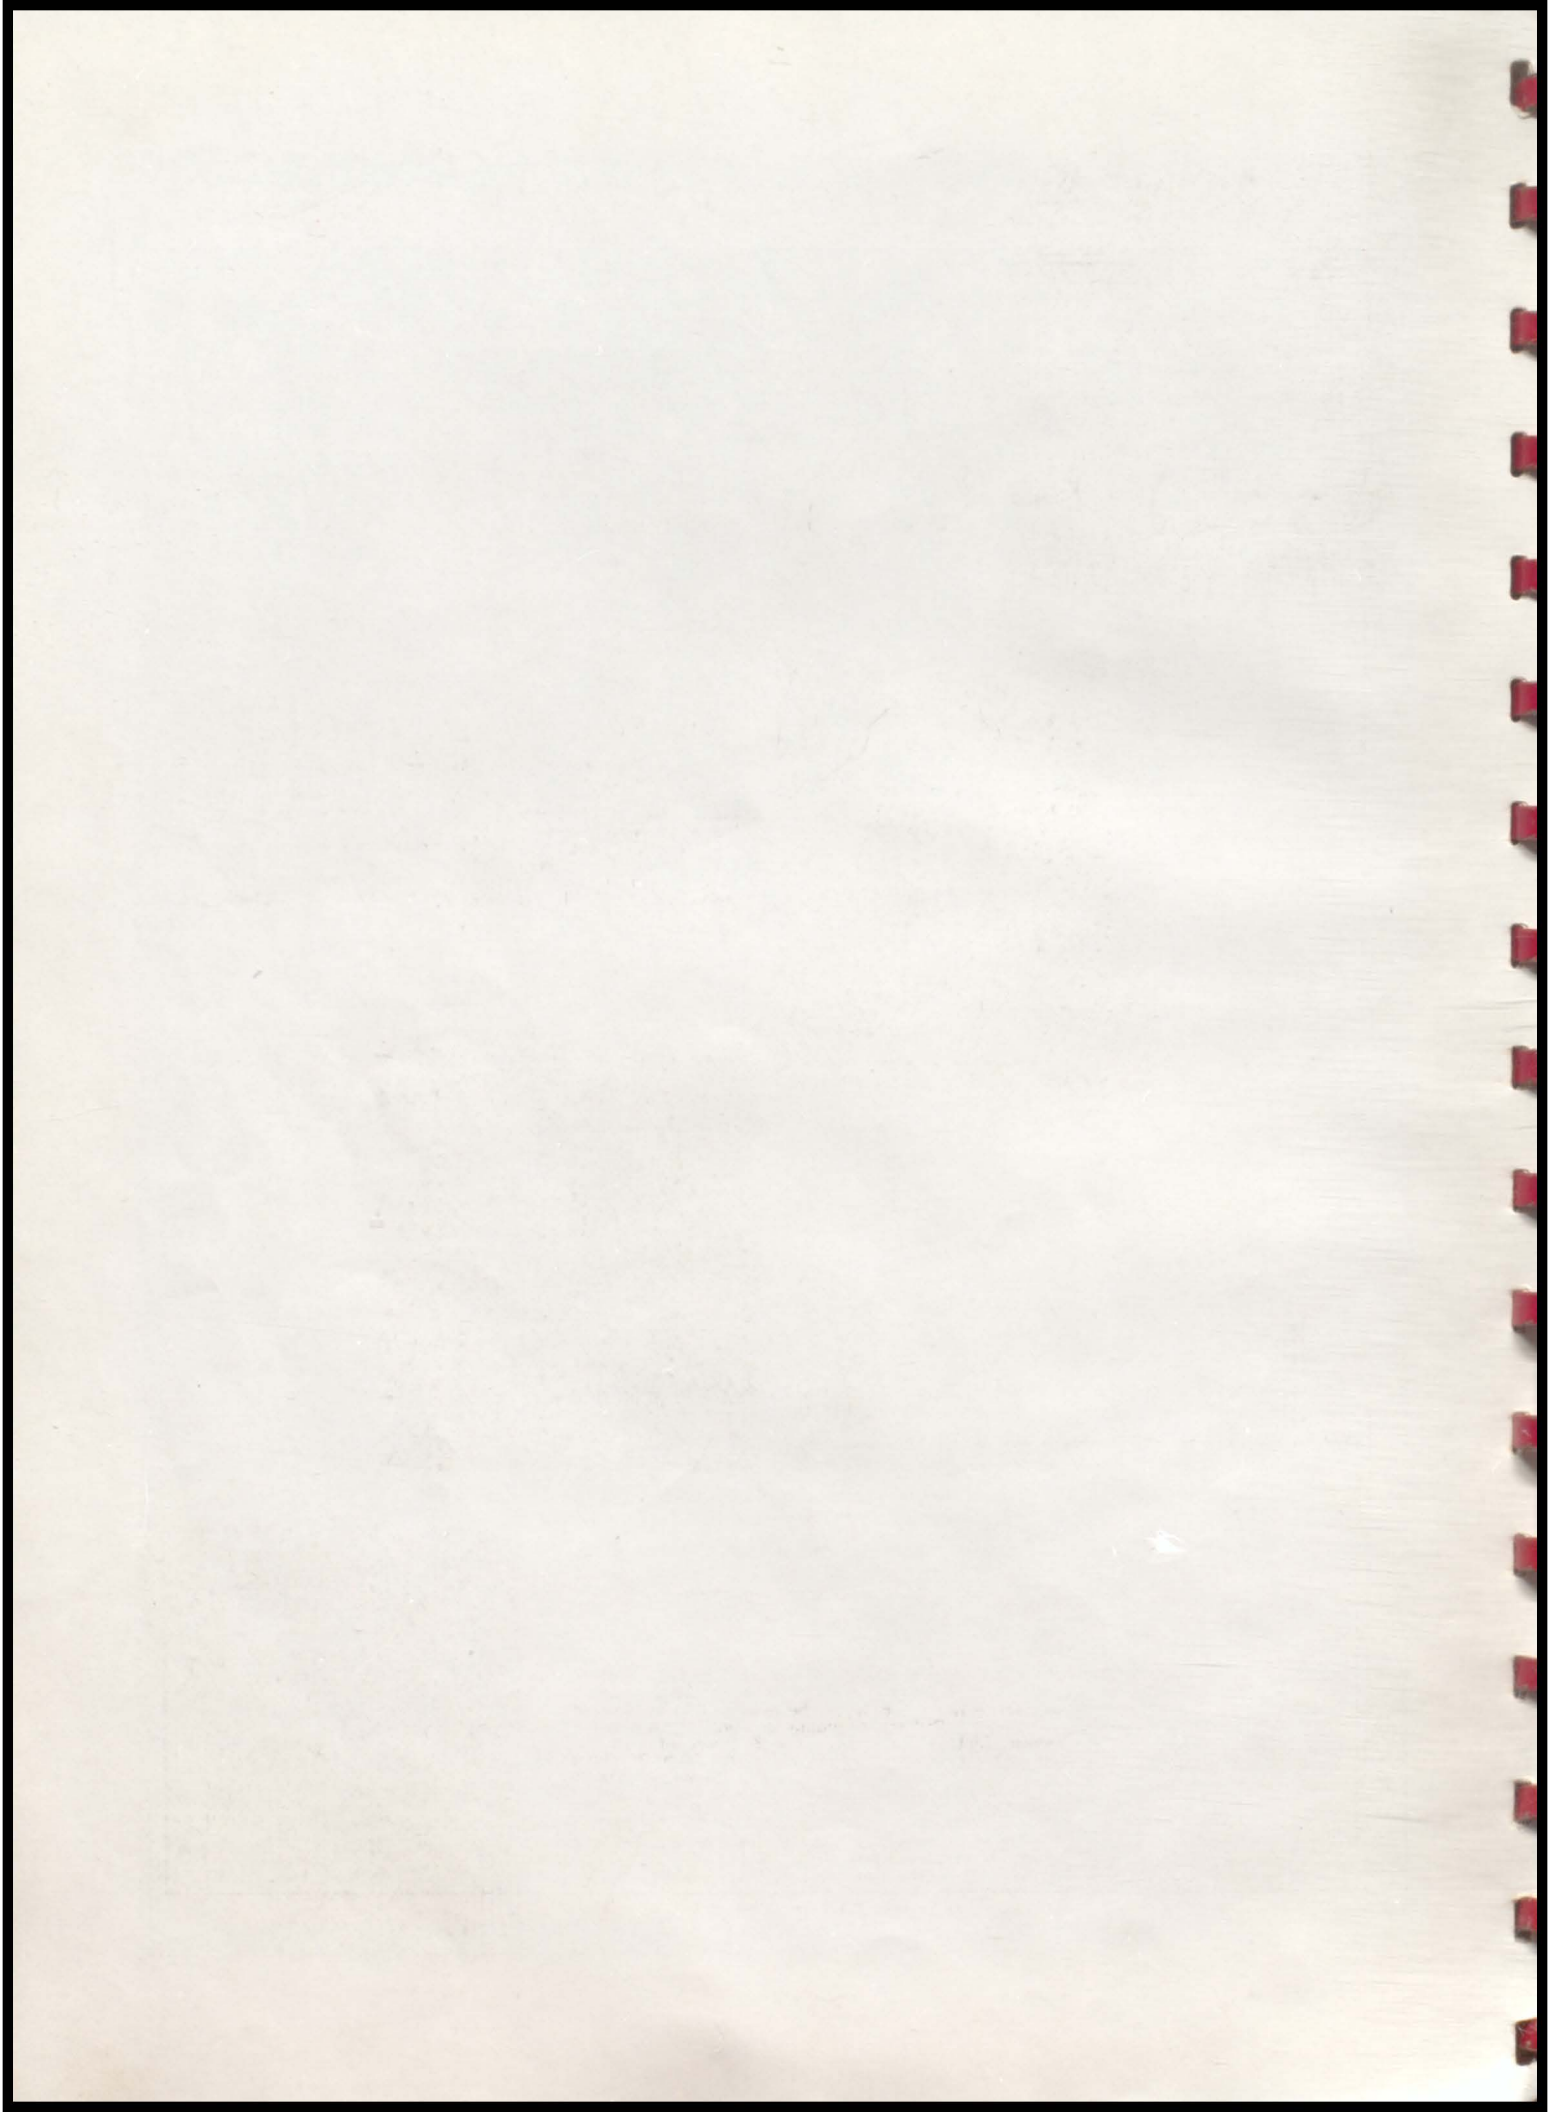

To the memory of our East High boys who gave their lives in the service of our country, we respectfully dedicate this book. In deepest gratitude, we pledge ourselves anew to the "Service of Humanity".

STUDENT COUNCIL

Again this semester the student council has done a fine job in governing East High. Under the able leadership of Ralph Sampson, the various committees have worked efficiently, enforcing some old rules, and trying out some new plans.

The vice-president, Bob Rydell, and secretary, Dolores Twedt, have served faithfully, as has each individual member, for everyone realizes the importance of being a member of the student governing body. It is one of the highest honors which our school offers.

Miss Agnes Helmreich has stood by, giving welcome advice, when needed, offering suggestions, and just keeping things going in general.

QUILL STAFF

The Quill is the result of much hard work by a group of senior English students, who were selected by the English teachers.

At the first of the semester the staff studies books on publishing yearbooks and works out all the plans for publishing the Quill. Then the staff is divided into the four groups—seniors, organizations, sports, and introduction and advertising.

In the senior group this year were Elizabeth Mickelson, Aileen Heath, Jo Ann Mitchell, Barbara Moon, and Wallace Vance; in the organizations group—Marilyn Erickson, Doris Beck, Jackee Gibson, and Bob Hedlund; in the sports group Therese Smith and Roger Hartung; in the introduction and advertising group Russell Anderson and Bill Anderson.

The photographers were Jerry Graves and Ray Cunningham; the typists, Gretchen Gustafson and Lucille Haws. All of these were under the supervision of Carolyn Bardole, editor, and Bob Rydell, associate editor. Planning the layout and photographs and writing the copy, a larger job than it may sound, is the next job of the staff. The space for copy must be figured and copy must be written to fill that space, no more or less as far as possible. The Quill advisors are Kenneth Stratton, editorial; Harriet Macy, art; Charles Springgate, advertising; and Leslie Olsen, business.

SCROLL STAFF

Streamlined and sparkling with news, features, and the best of humor, the East High Scroll is of interest to all students, with a makeup that is easy and pleasant to read.

The success of our newspaper is no accident, for hard work and honest effort have been combined in order to produce one of the finest school newspapers in the country.

Efficient and prudent faculty advisors being a must in high school newspaper work, the Scroll has been most fortunate in having again this semester Mr. Kenneth Stratton as editorial advisor, Mr. Leslie Olsen as financial business manager, and Miss Harriet Macy providing the artistic aspect.

The staff is comprised of Journalism 2 students and does its work, for the most part, during the fifth period. Bob Hedlund is this semester's editor-in-chief, while Bob Shepherd fills the post as advertising and business manager. Rosemary Coy and Beverly Stout are the managing editors whose task is to see that the news beats are covered and all suggestions for stories filed.

The semester news page editors are Bob Geyer, Velma Davidson, Rae Lyman, and Dale Nystrom, with the editorial and sports pages under the supervision of Lois Baysinger and Bill Morrissey respectively.

LIBRARY STAFF

Members of the library staff are in the library to help students find books they need. Under the supervision of Miss Carrie Larson, the assistants check out and check in books, place them on the shelves, and check them to see that they are in order so that they can be easily found by the students.

CLERICAL STAFF

These industrious looking girls are selected from the stenographic classes to work in the offices of Mr. Prichard, Mr. Williams, Miss Helmreich, Mrs. Clark and the main office. These students gain experience in taking dictation, typing, and in other jobs in the stenographic line while they help relieve the regular office staff of many duties.

MESSENGERS

The messengers, under the supervision of Miss Larson, collect attendance sheets and absence slips. Each messenger is assigned to a certain floor where he collects the slips which are then put in the teachers' boxes in the office. In order to do this service, the messengers give up part of their study hall time.

USHERS

Seating for the assemblies is made an easier and simpler job through the help of the ushers who are members of Mr. Wilson's home room. They find seats for the students and guests and aid in keeping the assemblies running smoothly. East High thanks these helpful students.

The Scarlet Theater

STAGEHANDS AND ELECTRICIANS

Playing a prominent role in every production, the stagehands and electricians are still the unsung heroes of the Scarlet Theater. The former are under the direction of Mr. William Hammond, and the latter are responsible to Mr. Wilbur Yount. Remember these crews when you are passing out the roses for our splendid assemblies.

ELECTRICIANS AND STAGE HANDS

MOVIE OPERATORS

Upon investigation, one would find in the Scarlet Theater's balcony, a small booth which houses the movie operators while they run the projectors each noon. Chosen by their sponsor, Mr. Walter Stephens, they are dependable, responsible, and always on the job.

WARDROBE GIRLS

WARDROBE GIRLS

Doing an excellent job in caring for East's extensive costume department, the wardrobe girls are extremely important in the stage productions of the Scarlet Theater. Under the direction of Miss Stella Hargis, they are ready at anytime to pitch in and take over the costuming for plays and assemblies.

LUNCHROOM GIRLS

CASHIERS AND CAFE GIRLS

Candy bars are a favorite snack in the Scarlet Theater during the noon movies; thus, the work done by the candy sellers is greatly appreciated by all students. Cash register girls and lunch room helpers are also among those to be honored for their devotion to duty and their willingness to aid in making the lunch periods run smoothly.

CAFETERIA LADIES

Early every morning of the week, long before most of the students arise from their beds, the cafeteria ladies are arriving to start another day's work. Under the supervision of Mrs. Maude Wiggenjost the ladies prepare the delicious food that the students are served in the cafeteria.

Among Mrs. Wiggenjost's duties are planning the lunches and ordering the food. Planning for such a large group as the student body of East High is sometimes a tremendous task.

The meals have been varied, and they appeal to the students' taste. A word of appreciation should be given to these women who furnish good wholesome food for those who eat in the cafeteria.

CUSTODIANS

Have you noticed the clean halls and class rooms of East High? The janitors are to be commended for the way they keep the school in neat and clean order. These men not only attend to the upkeep of the main building, but they also care for the grounds, annex, and gymnasium.

A few of the janitors' many duties are keeping supplies in readiness for our use, heating and ventilating the class rooms, raising and lowering the flag, and making minor repairs to school equipment, such as keeping the much abused combination locks in working order.

Let's show our appreciation, which they well deserve, by being more considerate about the way we handle the school's materials.

We also praise the work of the matron, who, though busy, is never too busy for a friendly word and smile for the students who pass her way. She is an efficient worker, and her thoughtful acts make each day more pleasant.

MONITORS, BASEMENT and 2nd

MONITORS

Wearing those handsome white and red pins, the monitors daily take their posts—doing their bit to preserve order and harmony in East's building.

Perhaps you have encountered one of the same while going from one room to another during class periods. He has probably glanced at the pink slip in your hand, signed his initials on the back, and hurried you on to your destination.

Truly, not everyone can be a monitor, for the various sponsors choose the students they think most trustworthy and responsible. The monitors are charged with keeping the hall quiet and orderly while classes are in session.

All of the students should do their best to cooperate with the monitors by always having a pink slip, signed by the issuing teacher.

Monitors are given considerable character-building freedom while they are at their posts; thus, they learn that with increased freedom comes greater responsibility — challenging them to be better citizens in the world of tomorrow.

STUDENT CADET TEACHERS

The student cadet teachers are appointed from the senior A class by Mr. D. O. Wilson. When supply teachers are unobtainable, the student cadets are called to supply. This is usually during their study hall periods, but may be for the entire day, if necessary. Grade schools and junior high schools may also call on the cadet teachers. Chosen for their character, dependability, and intelligence, the student cadet teachers render a much-needed service through the year.

GYM MONITORS

The gym monitors are picked to help the gym teachers, Miss Helen Spencer and Mr. Gus Rump. Their duties include checking the attendance, writing out absence slips, checking the baskets in and out, and other jobs that are necessary to keep the gym classes running smoothly. To give this service, the students give up their study hall periods. For their work the girls receive credit in G.A.A., and the work done by all the monitors is appreciated by the entire school.

STRING ENSEMBLE

Joy Newbrough, Roberta Johnston, Marilyn Sandler

A CAPELLA CHOIR

Though we all enjoy the programs put on by the music department, few of us realize the constant effort put forth to make them such.

Hours of practice before every program explain the perfection which our choir has achieved.

As East High students we can be proud of our excellent choir. Much of the credit goes to our capable instructor, Miss Sigrid Greenhill, who unselfishly devotes much time.

SEXTET

Patterson, Mullen, Hartle, Allen (accompanist), Gleason, Johnston, Mendenhall.

SPECIAL GROUPS

The sextet is a group of girls with exceptional voices blended together, making good entertainment any time.

The string ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Marlin Morrette, has accomplished a great deal as the semester has progressed, playing not only at East, but at many outside programs. Credit should be given this group who have worked so tirelessly.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Directed by Miss Sigrid Greenhill, the students in the Girls' Glee Club secure training for the development of their voices. Besides obtaining the benefit of Miss Greenhill's teaching, the girls get a lot of enjoyment from singing with other girls. Each year they sing at East High's annual music festival. Some of these girls are selected from the group to sing in the A Cappella Choir during the following semester.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Sigrid Greenhill, is one of the advanced musical groups of our school. The class provides not only an excellent opportunity for the boys to gain knowledge in music but also gives them a chance to participate in group singing.

The Glee Club takes an active part in programs of East High and also in many local musical events.

ORCHESTRA

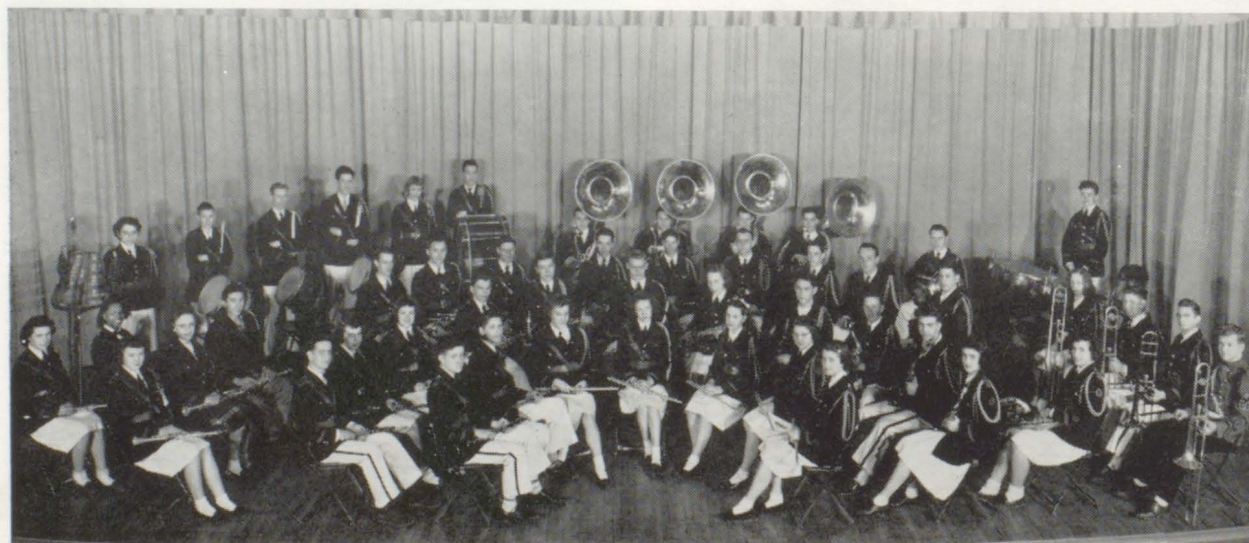

Under the direction of Mr. Marlin Morette, the orchestra not only has been a contributing factor in the success of school functions, but also has provided much enjoyment for the student body as well.

Appearing this semester between the acts of the all-school play and playing at the senior exercises, which include class night and commencement, the students have been afforded splendid opportunities to develop their skills in music.

BAND

The backbone of the "Lee Township against the world" spirit, and working hard to promote the same is the East High all-school band, the largest and most often used group in the school.

When the band director, Mr. Morette, is unable to appear, the directing responsibility falls upon the student leader, who this semester is Richard Reynolds. East, as in other semesters, is very proud of the work done by this organization.

Flutes: E. Sideman, R. Sideman, Lindblom, Anderson, Brooks; Clarinet: Van Dreser, Kavanagh, Kirkpatrick, Hamersley, Patterson, Booth Cuncanon, Frazier, Hall, Hannah, Harris; Bass Clarinet: Naig; Saxophone Alto: Daggett, Darrah, Crippen, Oliver; Saxophone Tenor: Curry, Collins; Trumpets: Caswell, Niffenegger, Gruener, Maddison, Strasburg, Davis, Southard, Cummings, Cameron, Pagliai, Collier, Kile; French Horns: Gee, Titus; Trombone: Reynolds, Hayes, Oppedahl, Jones, Payne; Baritone: Brown; Eb Tuba: Krouse; Bb Tuba: Burzacutt, Brown, Redington; Bass Drum: King; Cymbals: Northrup, Wilkison; Snare Drum: King, Dalrymple, Daniels, Cart; Tympani: Anderson; Bells: Sandler, Gephart.

"Every Family Has One"

"Every Family Has One" is a hilarious story of a typical American family, written by George Batson.

The East High School dramatics department very ably presented this play at 8:00 in the auditorium on May 11 and 12.

Each person did his part excellently, for East High plays always rank high, and this semester was no exception.

The characters were as follows: Penelope Reardon, Ruth Ellen Humphrey; Laura Reardon, Barbara Duvall; Mrs. Parker (Bessie), Mary Anne Shockley; Nana Reardon, Marjorie Clemmens; Essie, Peggy Crank; Reginald Reardon, Clifford Layton; Marcia Reardon, Marilyn Taylor; Warry, Charles Montgomery; Mr. Parker (James) Willard Clarkson; Sherwin Parker, Jack Marsh; Todd Galloway, John Westbay.

The excellent direction of Mrs. Juniata Laser was well-rewarded with fine acting, and the play was enjoyed by all. Credit should be given also to Miss Kate Keffer, a student teacher from Drake University. Good luck to her; she was appreciated at East High.

Row 1: Bonnie Roderick, Margie Clemens, Ruthellen Humphrey, Barbara Duvall; Row 2: Charles Montgomery, Marilyn Taylor, John Westbay, Clifford Layton.

BRUSH AND PALETTE

The purpose of the Brush and Palette Club is to further an interest in art and art work. Anyone wishing to do so may join this club, which is under the supervision of Miss Harriet Macy. This group has parties, hears talks on various phases of art, and does different types of art work. A visit to the Art Center was a special treat this past year, as was the showing of some especially nice colored slides on Colorado, Canada, and the New England states by Miss Helen Spencer. The officers of the Brush and Palette Club include Kathryn Doiel, president; Mary Hamling, vice-president; and Ruth Darrah, secretary.

CRAFTS

The Crafts Club is for the purpose of furthering an interest in all types of crafts. Under the direction of Mrs. Rowena Clement, this club learns more about the various crafts and provides an opportunity for the students to put their knowledge to use. By working in wood, metals, textiles, and other materials, the students learn many new things and have a good time doing so. This knowledge of crafts will help to provide the students with a hobby or way to spend their time advantageously, and perhaps will help them in their choice of a vocation. Officers this semester included Vera Gleason, president; Delores Mersel, vice-president and Margaret Schmidt, treasurer.

CHESS AND CHECKERS

The Chess and Checkers Club, sponsored by Mr. J. A. Seevers, is the oldest boys' club in school. The meetings of this club are almost completely given over to playing chess and checkers. The boys in this club, of course, seize every opportunity, both inside and outside the club, to become more proficient players of chess or checkers, whichever they are most interested in. An important feature of the meetings also is food, which is usually in the form of candy bars, furnished by the sponsor, Mr. Seevers. The officers this year were Marvin Givant, president; Dick Peterson, vice-president; Bob Darrah, secretary; and Melvin Givant, treasurer.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB I

Fellowship Club I meets daily during the last fifteen minutes of the first lunch hour for a time of fellowship with Christians. They sing choruses, read Scripture, have prayer, and sometimes have outside speakers at their meetings.

Each member takes one day and plans the programs for that time. The member may talk himself or get a speaker from outside the school. Alumni are the most frequent visiting speakers to this club. The members who will take charge of the meetings are chosen by the club officers who are Harriet Gustafson, president, and Jerry Lou Spring, secretary.

The Fellowship Clubs are under the sponsorship of Miss Agnes Helmreich.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB III

The largest of the Fellowship Clubs meets during the third lunch hour. The officers are Don Wilson, president; Barbara Mullin, vice-president; and Barbara Moon, secretary. Each member has charge of one day and must take the responsibility for that program. This student, as in the other clubs, is chosen by the officers.

The Fellowship Clubs were organized in East High about four years ago with the help of Bill Houser, a student at East at that time, and Rev. Ed Nelson, who headed the groups in the city. What were once two small clubs have now grown into three larger clubs. These clubs have been greatly respected in East High and have continued to grow in reputation as well as in number.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB II

This club was organized this semester as there are now three lunches. The group meets every day during the time of the noon movie of the second lunch hour. The club is largely composed of members taken from the first and third groups when the lunches were divided. Their president, Clifford Green, was president of first hour club. The vice-president is Artie McNair. Under the officers' leadership the club carries on their programs very similar to those of the first hour club. All three clubs study God's Word in some way each noon and at almost every meeting testimonies are given by the members. These clubs are all interdenominational.

ZETAGATHEAN

Most people know the "Zeta girls" by the colorful yellow and green Z's worn the first of every semester. Wearing the Z, and having it signed by handsome athletes, has become a tradition of the Zetagatheans.

Many good times have been had in the club this term, including a fashion show, put on by the Zetas themselves.

PHILOMATHEAN

The oldest girls' club in East, the Philomathean, is still going strong. Originally a literary organization, the club now functions as a general interest group. The Alpha Phi Alphas, an exclusive and prominent post-graduate sisterhood, are again seeking new members, who are chosen from the 12A girls belonging to Philo.

GIRLS' HI-Y

The Girls' Hi-Y stepped high this semester with a swimming party, pot-luck dinner, farm-erette party, square dance, and a bicycle hike.

Miss M. E. Jameson was this semester's sponsor and Christine Sandahl acted in the capacity of president, with Lillian Hayashi, vice-president; Ann Nelson, secretary; and Betty Jo Kalny, treasurer. Meetings were held on Tuesdays in the Y. W. C. A. at 7:00 p.m.

BOYS' HI-Y

Visiting the police station, seeing movies, and having a swim and hamburger fry are but a few of the Boys' Hi-Y activities this semester.

The boys were unusually active this semester led by their president, Bill Evans, and had a host of successful functions. This year's vice-president was Walt Mickelson, secretary was Dale Alam, and treasurer was Dave Sisam, with Mr. Donald Taylor the advisor.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, sponsored by Miss Winifred Cummings, is for students who have taken or are taking Latin. A special feature of the club's program, which includes many activities carried on by the Romans, is a Roman wedding and banquet. Officers include Betty Dubansky, Consul; Rivalie Sideman, Pro-consul; Twila Mattson, Scriba; Marjorie Livengood, Quaestor; and Priscilla Webb, Janitor.

SPANISH CLUB

Spanish Club is made up of students who have taken or are taking Spanish. Miss Frances Brewer sponsors this club, in which Spanish is used as much as possible. One of the special features this semester was the movie "South of the Border." The officers include Don Rodine, president; Artie McNair, vice-president; Norma Knudsen, secretary; and Sharon Heggen, treasurer.

12A GIRLS' CLUB

The 12A Girls' Club is a fun-loving group formed from the 12B Girls' Club of last semester. The most novel thing about the club was their original initiation. No one could miss the sloppy slippers and pigtails adorned with ribbons that were around our halls on initiation day. Miss Helmreich is advisor of this fine girls' club.

10B GIRLS' CLUB

New to East High this year, the 10B girls have really appreciated their own club. Talking with other 10B girls, airing the problems of underclassmen, has really benefited many girls. The club gives them a chance to get acquainted with other 10B girls, and to learn more about the 10B boys. Miss Helmreich is also the advisor of this club.

JUNIOR DEBS

The Junior Debs, organized this semester, consists of 11A girls. The officers of the club are the president, Diane Biddison; vice-president, Shirley Taylor; secretary, Darlene Kohlbusch; and treasurer, Jackie Katzman. Under the sponsorship of Miss Rierson and the leadership of their officers the girls used their meetings to improve their personalities and to associate with their classmates.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club has been directed this year by the president, Dick Peterson; vice-president, Rosemary Butz; and secretary-treasurer, Dora Struth. Their programs have consisted of studying different types of rays, such as ultraviolet rays, gamma rays, light rays and x-rays. The members are assisted in their investigations by their sponsor, Mr. Walter Barnard.

SPECIAL INTEREST

One of the largest and most popular mixed club groups in East High is the Special Interest Club. Although this club follows no set program, it succeeds very well in providing meetings of interest to all its members. A few of this year's activities were a treasure hunt, the annual field trip to Still College of Osteopathy, a full length movie, and a picnic. The initiation ceremony for new members this semester was quite unique. The ones who were to be initiated were blindfolded and various objects were passed to them to feel and identify.

The Special Interest Club was organized about ten years ago by Miss Helmreich and was taken over in a short while by Mr. Yount. He has been the advisor of the club since that time. The club was founded as a social club and has remained as such throughout its existence. As its purpose is to provide good entertainment, the meetings are planned to be of "special interest" to everyone concerned. The membership always is quite large, running anywhere from 130 to 180 members.

This past semester this peppy club was headed by Bob Speck, president; Richard Ferguson, vice-president; Elizabeth Mickelson, secretary; and Rex Davis, treasurer.

ACCORDION ENSEMBLE

New in our school this semester is our accordion ensemble. Under the direction of Richard "Butch" Reynolds this organization has just concluded a successful season. This group has provided something new in the field of entertainment for East High students, having played for many different school functions. We wish continued success to this unique musical group.

SEASON'S REVIEW

Our basketball team this year won six of its games. The boys put in many hours of after-school practice which enabled them to beat some of the best teams.

The lack of experience and the loss of regular Bob Peters at midyear hampered our team. The team this year consisted of many juniors, who now have received that much-needed experience which will go into making a winning team next season. The team lost many a close game this year.

Much credit goes to Coach Wendell Webb and his assistant, Mr. Chandos Smith, who had the job of weeding out the prospective ball players from a very large group of rookies.

Jim Egly, a senior letterman, won a spot on the second all-city team. With the return of three starters, East High's team should be right up among the top teams next season.

Eight boys were awarded one-ring monograms this year. Three boys received their second-ring letters.

SEASON'S REVIEW

The East High second basketball squad went to the top of the city this year and crashed first place in the inter-school second-squad competition. The boys began practice last fall and went every afternoon after school to the gym where they were quickly whipped into shape by Coach Webb assisted by Mr. A. C. Smith. Each boy practised hard to improve his playing, and, while learning this, also learned team spirit and co-operation, essential elements of a successful team. As the season progressed the team scores showed this improvement, and the Norwalk and West Waterloo games proved the boys' improved markmanship. John Phillips was the team's high scorer.

The game with Norwalk was especially thrilling. Mr. Webb took nine boys to the game, but during the fast play five fouled out. The game was finished with four regular second squad member, and the coach was forced to dress a boy on the first team.

The prospects for these boys making next year's first team are high. Because of their hard work and fine showing we believe they deserve much credit.

SEASON'S REVIEW

The wrestling team was bolstered this season by the return of ten former letter earners, three of whom graduated at midyear. Three more, Bob Beech, Ralph Sampson and Delmar Phipps will graduate in June.

Once again the team captured the city championship by scoring the highest number of points against any other city team. Winning individual victories in their weights were Epps, 95; Ward, 112; DeBaKey, 118; Beech, 123; Overturff, 145; Sampson, 155; Phipps, heavyweight.

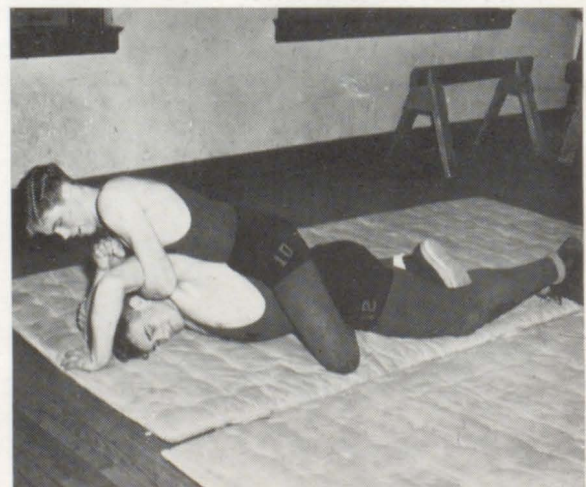

In the district meet at Clarion, Iowa, three boys took first place. They were Eisenlauer, Sampson, and Phipps. Our team took third place in the district and fourth place in the Big Seven meet, where Whitehurst and Phipps took first place.

Nearly all of the out-of-town teams start their wrestling in junior high school and are, therefore, much more experienced on their varsity teams. We feel that this season's team made an exceptional showing in spite of this fact. This year nine boys were awarded letters.

SWIMMING

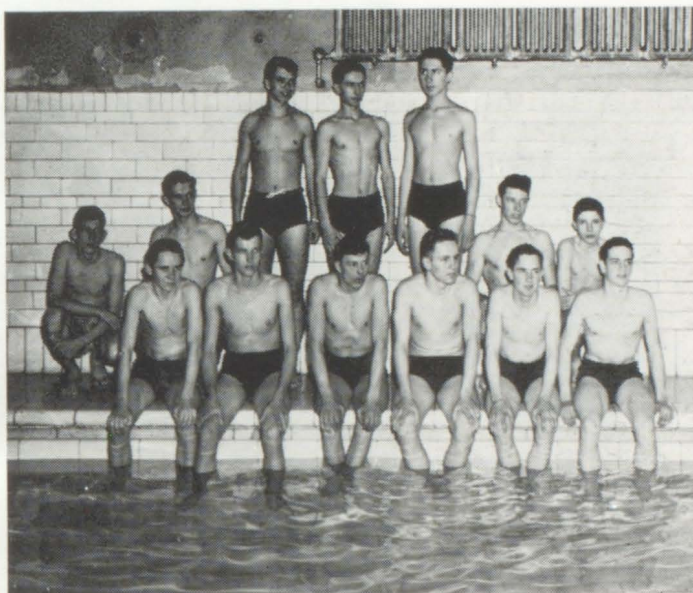

SEASON'S REVIEW

With only the loss of Roy Doop at midyear and Bob Gilmore in June, the entire swimming team will return next season. Although East has not yet received its proposed pool, this year's team has improved past records.

In the first city meet the team placed fourth, but in the second city meet advanced to third. In the latter meet Ronnie Helms and Bob Gilmore placed first and third, respectively, in the forty yard free style, and Ed Wilkinson placed third in the hundred yard backstroke.

In the state meet the same boys placed; Ronnie Helms and Bob Gilmore, fourth and sixth, respectively, in the forty yard freestyle. Ed Wilkinson won third in the hundred yard backstroke with a time of 1:10.2.

Eleven boys were awarded swimming monograms this semester. Three boys received two-ring monograms, freestylers Ronnie Helms and Bob Gilmore and backstroker Ed Wilkinson. One-ring monograms were awarded to freestylers Bill Buck, Bob Hedlund, Ralph Allen, and Roger Hartung; backstrokers Dick Perrick and Stanley Gourd; and breaststrokers Pat Kavanaugh and Frank Avitt.

SEASON'S REVIEW

As the Quill goes to press our track season is not yet in full swing. However, with a large number of veteran trackmen returning and many new recruits, our track team looks very promising. The first meet of the season was the A.A.U. meet at the Drake fieldhouse. In this meet the team won second place, and Dick Atkins crashed first place in the broad-jump when he broke the existing record. Other winners in this meet were Bob Shepherd, Kenny Terrell, Jim Ward, and Darwin Peterson.

The following meets were City Indoor, March 28; State Indoor, April 5; Valley Relays, April 12; Oskaloosa Relays, April 18; Drake Relays, April 25-26; Grinnell, May 3; District, May 10; Big Seven, May 17; State Finals, May 24.

East High has had a fine track team for a number of years. The boys are in excellent physical condition, and under the watchful eyes of Coaches Webb and Augustine, the season should be greatly successful.

SEASON'S REVIEW

After years without a baseball team, East High organized its band of sluggers early this year under the direction of Mr. Goodwin. However, since the Quill goes to press before the season gets under way, we are not able to report on its success. The coach outlined this schedule: the first game April 4, against Indianola; April 8, North; April 11, Roosevelt; April 15, Tech; May 10-13, District; May 16, Tech; May 19-21, State Final; May 23, Roosevelt; May 24, Big Seven; May 27, North.

Because of adverse weather conditions, the team was unable to practice outdoors as much as they would have liked. Many nights they were forced to use the gym where they practiced catching, throwing, and bunting, and where they did calisthenics. The school purchased new uniforms which are gray with a red trim. Since Mr. Goodwin has had much experience in playing baseball, we feel sure that our team will have much success.

Team Work

SEASON'S REVIEW

Tennis is a sport which requires perfect timing and coordination of eyes, arms, and feet. To develop these principles many hours of practice, directed by Coach Gewerth, are needed.

East High's tennis team has to do most of its practicing on the Amos Hiatt asphalt courts.

The spring schedule consists of one, and maybe two dual meets with each Des Moines high school, the Big Seven, the district and state for those who win in the district. Usually every year the team will have one or two dual meets with out-of-town schools.

Returning to this year's squad are three lettermen, Roger Hartung, Glen Plaisted, and Merton Van Dreser. All three boys are seniors and have had either one or two years' service on the squad.

GOLF

SEASON'S REVIEW

Those divot throwing boys of Mr. Rump's, known as East High's golf team, start their season just as soon as old man weather permits.

They get out on the course and limber up their woods, irons, and putters, practicing every chance they get so as to get on the team before the first meet. Mr. Rump has secured an array of meets this year.

These meets will be with Des Moines schools as well as out-of-town schools. The golf team will also play in the Big Seven and the District and State.

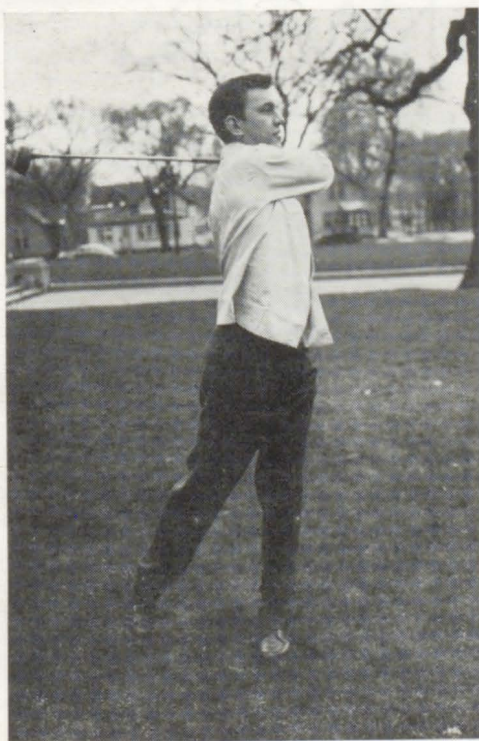

There are four lettermen returning to the squad, Derald Leaming, John Phillips, Ronald Sass, and Bud Campbell. These are the boys who will lead the Scarlet golf team against the foe.

Wait just a minute, what's this???? Why, it's East High's cheerleaders leading another of those famous East High yells. These gaudily dressed gents are at every football and basketball game, and every pep assembly, leading the loyal East High fans in supporting our teams.

Under the leadership of Kenneth Stratton and captainship of Louie Smith, these boys practice diligently perfecting their skills.

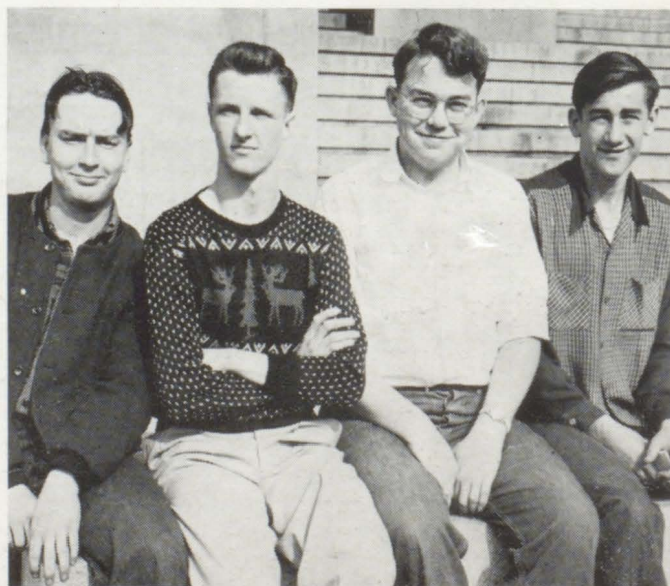

With the graduation of Louis Smith, John Rex will be next season's captain, supported by Austin Greider and two other boys.

Every night during every season we find these athletic managers (Cage Monkeys to most of you) down in the locker room checking in and out equipment to the athletes. They remain there until all the boys have worked out and then turned in their equipment. At the football, basketball, and baseball games the equipment managers are there looking after equipment and helping the team members or coaches in many ways. These boys are under the supervision of Mr. Rump, the physical education director. Hats off to these boys! They deserve much praise.

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the most worthwhile organizations in East High School. The girls work after school at basketball, swimming, tumbling, tennis, golf, and other sports. This semester juggling was introduced to the girls in their gym classes, and many have worked out their own routines. After they have earned three hundred points, the girls are eligible for a numeral. Five hundred points wins them their monograms. These points are recorded with Miss Helen Spencer, who is the G.A.A. supervisor. Although their work is hard and takes much extra time, the girls enjoy it and are rewarded with health, greater skill, and athletic prowess.

Below is the Girls' Tumbling team which practices Monday afternoons after school. These girls are under the capable direction of Miss Spencer. They practice many formations as well as the regular tumbling stunts—flips, somersaults, headstands and others. This team usually performs for the Spring May Festival and must put in many hours of hard practice in order to perfect their stunts. Because of their ability and agility at this sport, the girls are skilled in their work, have greater balance, and are generally more graceful and poised.

SEASON'S REVIEW

The girls' golf squad is organized this season under the capable direction of Mr. Rump. As soon as weather conditions permitted, they started practicing after school at Grandview golf course where they are admitted free on certain days. During the season there are meets with the golf teams of other schools. Although several more girls are needed, we are certain of a successful season.

The tennis team is under the supervision of Miss Helen Spencer. There are ten girls on the team and a large number on the squad. Practice is usually held at the Amos Hiatt courts after school, but the girls practice often during week ends and in their spare time. Later in the season there are meets with the teams from other schools.

At the beginning of each semester the girls' gym classes are organized into squads by Miss Spencer. The squad leaders, who were elected from these squads, take charge of attendance in their squads and are responsible for their behavior. The girls are a great help.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the East High graduating class of June, 1947, being of sound mind (?) and legal age, do hereby declare this, our last will and testament. To all future graduates we leave all opportunities for attaining happiness, wonderful memories and good friends; also we leave all homework, ways of skipping class and methods of getting our names in the Scroll.

Betty Jo Kalny bequeaths her whistleblity to Polly Hansen.

Hubert Holt leaves his talent for making people happy to Jack Winters.

Rose Bechtel wills her Way With the Men to Anna Belle Gardner.

Tall, Dark and Handsome Harold Shivers leaves; his being irreplaceable means you poor women will have to use substitutes to drool over. Too Bad!!!

Jessica Weis bequeaths her ability to wear clothes well to Marilyn Davis (Woo-woo).

Bob Carter wills his skill on the pinball machine to Gary Perdue (Thanks for that extra dipper of ice cream, Gary).

Marilyn Winfrey leaves her likeable manner to Alice Frampton.

Delmar Phipps leaves his physique to Rodney Noland. Ah, what that wrestling team doesn't do for a man. Ruff!!!

Jane Cox bestows a small bit of her vivacity upon Jackee Gibson.

Arlen Nicholls bestows his basketball shootin' eye upon Davie Sisam so East can take the City Series next year.

Bill Dunagan and Shirley Rush leave their position as cutest couple in school to Joanne Hartle and Bill King.

Glenn Fox bequeaths his height to Ernie Lantz.

Aileen Heath says anytime Lois Ann Gordon tires of being So Blonde, she'll contribute her black hair to the cause.

Bob Maxwell yawns that Marv Sandin can have his sleepiness.

Phyllis Clingenpeel wills her beautiful eyes to Joan Gill.

Stan McClintock leaves his brother here to woo the women.

Glen Plaisted bequeaths his droll funniness to Roger Hartung.

Genevieve Sassatelli wills her beautiful profile to Milre Baker.

Don Shannahan leaves his OH-You-Kid personality to Bill Thornton. More Fun.

The departing English classes leave their

M.O.S. books (with all the answers written in) to the sufferers of next year.

Beverly Fisher bequeaths her athletic ability to Shirley Kunzie.

Kenny Johnson bestows his crazy sense of humor upon Dale Alam—who is really funny enough all by himself.

Lillian Hayashi might leave a little of her darlingness to Marilyn Wagner—but that could start a riot.

Eugene Krouse leaves his swell personality to "Mike" Mickelson.

Carolyn Bardole leaves the editorship of the Quill to the next victim with the wish that next year's senior staff will spend less time talking about people and more time talking about the Quill.

Nancy Graham bestows her cute laugh to Suzanne Terrell.

Carroll McClain bestows his attractive looks upon Harry West. Sigh!!

Barbara Moon bequeaths her intelligence to Marilyn Erickson.

Mertin Van Dreser leaves all his chemistry papers for the next class to copy—like this one has.

Phyllis Hindal bestows some of her mischievousness upon Lucile Sargent.

Howard Marshall wills his sincerity to Bill Oxley.

Vergene Green leaves her peppy cuteness to Ruth Sexton.

The remaining half of the boys' quartet regretfully leaves their accompanist Arlene Allan to the lucky four of next year.

Bill Radosevich wills his elusiveness to Bud Campbell.

Madonna (Chalkie) Casson leaves her piece of chalk to the next girl who gets around like she does. Sorry kids—Hugger McClintock is leaving with her.

Patty Carlisle bequeaths her sweetness to Barbara Duval.

Bob Pantier wills his mathability to Bill Jensen, Rosemary Daley, and Don Wilson; there's plenty to go around.

Pat McNamara bestows her talkativeness upon Lillias Bloem.

T. C. Smith leaves her passion for the wrestling team to Virginia Perry.

Bob Rydell bequeaths his friendliness to Harold Heyer.

Yours Truly leaves before the students whose names are not in the will get ahold of her.

Therefore in witness thereof, we have hereto set out hands, and caused the Great Seal of the Graduating Class of June, 1947, to be affixed.

Senior Class Prophecy

In a dark, dingy, mystical abode Madame Beguiler ponders over her crystal ball. She is interrupted by a sudden clamoring in the corridor. The curtain is flung aside and a multitude of East High June '47 seniors crowd into the room. After a small amount of persuasion, Madame Beguiler agrees to reveal their future to them.

She repeats her magic words, "Abra Cadabra — the Spirit'll grabya", then enters into her spell. In a deep husky voice she discloses what is visible in the crystal ball. "The crystal ball seems hazy. The cloud is lifting. I dimly see a magnificent corridor.

"As the image becomes clearer, I behold Carnegie Hall before me. Among the mass of people, I detect Willard Clarkson, the mayor of the city, and two of his prominent associates, Ronald Sass, and Rolland Walston. Many famous people are gathered here tonight. Marilou Billings, Sally Knop, Barbara Brightman, King Wisdom, and Robert Gilmore, the Bing Crosby of his day, represent the bright and glittering Hollywood.

"As the image moves into the auditorium, I recognize more faces. I see by the program for the evening that Artie McNair, the famous pianist, is scheduled to play. He has drawn great crowds from all over the U. S. The head usher, Norman McKay, is busy finding seats for such noted people as Herman Hadsall, the senator from Iowa; the Metropolitan opera star, Jane Cox; Marilyn Winfrey, leading fashion designer; and Bob Hope's contemporary, Rex Davis.

"The vision fades; a golf course comes into view. A match to decide the National Golf championship is underway. Derald Leaming, a well-known golfer, is contending for this title. Coming up the green behind him, Dick Mohr, the world's laziest caddy, is pulling the golf clubs in a little wagon. A bright red shirt in the crowd blinds me for a few minutes. Then I see that the shirt belongs to the popcorn vendor, Jim Carpe. He turns his back and blots out the vision of the golf course. The magic words are losing their power; therefore the spell must be created again.

"Hokus Pokus, Seventh and Locust, the cloud is lifting again. The well-known streets of Des Moines are appearing. The skyscrapers of the city loom into view. By my X-ray vision, I can see into the office of the president of Bankers Life. Richard Bye is the gentleman who holds that desired position. His secretary, Arlene Munger, is taking a letter to Ted Calland, president of General Motors. The dictation is interrupted by a phone call from Eugene Krouse, manager of Des Moines Chemical Plant, asking to send over an agent to inspect the plant for insurance.

After much deliberation, Mr. Bye chooses one of his most trustworthy employees, Mr. Kenneth Johnson. As Kenny steps into a waiting cab, he recognizes the driver to be Bob Beech. 'Beechie' takes the cab, weaving in and out among the cars. Kenny, frightened to death, is sitting on the floor of the cab. A blue figure looms in the crystal ball. John Sullivan, alert traffic cop, is bringing the speed-mad Beech to a stop. Sullivan, with a fiendish laugh, presents Beech with a ticket to appear before Police Commissioner Don Allen. Kenny, getting out of the cab after such a ride, is determining whether to walk or take a bus. Madonna Casson, having landed her helicopter on the top of the cab, offers the distressed Kenny a lift. Kenny, still dazed, climbs into the gorgeous red plane. Casson, with a movement of her hand, has Kenny at his destination in a split second."

Madame Beguiler puts her hand to her head and groans. Thus far all East High students have been successful, but Larry Groom, the mortician, is almost in the poorhouse. Russell Anderson's "Elixir of Life" is decreasing the death rate by the year. He has also put Shirley Mendenhall, M. D., out of business.

"Ah! I see a great crowd of bobby soxers in front of the capitol building in Washington, D. C. They seem to be swooning over the handsome Secretary of Agriculture, Harold Shivers, who is accompanied by James Glover, Secretary of Treasury. Stanley McClintock, the attorney-general and Frank Watson, his assistant, are seen riding in the Washington Day parade. Today Joanne Mitchell, famous woman statesman, is to be inaugurated as the first woman president of the United States."

When the vision had completely blurred, the seniors departed, satisfied with their future.
